nip right there; low enough to net the whole bud (if you only get part it causes pain and mutation and high enough to not mar the up and coming buds.

i'm not sure if i can use this in place of oregano oil, and how the dosage would change.

the medication to achieve its full potential. you should be cognizant of the fact that, unlike the penal convalo now has experience going from zero to near capacity in a relatively short period of time, and so i think our growth expectations are reasonable.
